

Financial Markets Daily

Main drivers for the financial markets today...

- Stock markets positive, with the USD weakening and government bond yields adjusting lower. Investors are processing the CPI report in the US and its implications for upcoming Fed actions, on top of some optimism extending related to AI-oriented stocks
- In the US, June's inflation came in below expectations at -0.1% m/m, with the core at 0.1%. With this, annual prints stood at 3.0% and 3.3%, in the same order. In addition, jobless claims decelerated at the margin to 222 thousand. In other latitudes, inflation in Germany for the same month was unchanged vs. the preliminary figure at 0.2% m/m (2.5% y/y). In the UK, industrial activity surprised to the upside at 0.9% m/m, driving the pound. Finally, May's retail sales in Brazil grew 1.2% m/m (8.1% y/y)
- On the monetary front, we will be looking into Banxico's minutes, focusing on comments from members on upcoming actions. In the US we will have comments from Bostic and Musalem. Regarding decision, Malaysia and Korea held their reference rates at 3.00% and 3.50%, respectively, while in Peru a hold is also expected at 5.75%
- In other news, President Joe Biden keeps facing calls for him to retire from his reelection candidacy. Members from his party –including now Senator Peter Welch– and some big donors keep pushing this narrative. In this context, Biden will have an address this afternoon

Equities

- Advances in the main indices with investors attentive to the kick off the 2Q24 earnings season in the US, as well as recalibrating their expectations after the recent inflation data
- In the US, Nasdaq futures anticipate a slightly upward opening and are up 0.2% above their theoretical value. In Europe, gains prevailed and the Eurostoxx rose 0.8%, supported by the healthcare sector. In the same sense, Asia closed with a positive bias, highlighting the Hang Seng's 2.1% increase. In particular, Taiwan Semiconductor Manufacturing trades at record levels after indicating that second-quarter sales grew at their fastest pace since 2022
- Pfizer rises in pre-market (+1.8%) after reporting advances in a drug. Delta Air Lines (-9.5%) and PepsiCo (-2.0%) fall after missing quarterly earnings expectations

Sovereign fixed income, currencies and commodities

- Rally in sovereign bonds. The 10-year European rates decline 6bps, on average, while the Treasuries' yield curve is rallying 10bps. Yesterday, the Mbonos' curve printed gains of 9bps, with the 10-year benchmark at 9.88% (-8bps)
- Dollar weakens against most of G10 currencies with SEK (+1.1%) leading gains. In EM, the bias is also favorable with an appreciation of up to 1.0% in ZAR and CLP. The MXN trades at 17.70 per dollar (+0.7%), reaching its best level in one month
- Crude-oil futures climb for a second day as a decline in US crude inventories counters the IEA's call that demand growth is slowing. Widespread gains in metals, except for copper (-0.7%)

Moreover, we also state that we have not received, nor receive, or will receive compensation other than that of Grupo Financiero Banorte S.A.B. of C.V. for the provision of our services.

Relevant statements.

In accordance with current laws and internal procedures manuals, analysts are allowed to hold long or short positions in shares or securities issued by companies that are listed on the Mexican Stock Exchange and may be the subject of this report; nonetheless, equity analysts have to adhere to certain rules that regulate their participation in the market in order to prevent, among other things, the use of private information for their benefit and to avoid conflicts of interest. Analysts shall refrain from investing and holding transactions with securities or derivative instruments directly or through an intermediary person, with Securities subject to research reports, from 30 calendar days prior to the issuance date of the report in question, and up to 10 calendar days after its distribution date.

Compensation of Analysts.

Analysts' compensation is based on activities and services that are aimed at benefiting the investment clients of Casa de Bolsa Banorte and its subsidiaries. Such compensation is determined based on the general profitability of the Brokerage House and the Financial Group and on the individual performance of each analyst. However, investors should note that analysts do not receive direct payment or compensation for any specific transaction in investment banking or in other business areas.

Last-twelve-month activities of the business areas.

Grupo Financiero Banorte S.A.B. de C.V., through its business areas, provides services that include, among others, those corresponding to investment banking and corporate banking, to a large number of companies in Mexico and abroad. It may have provided, is providing or, in the future, will provide a service such as those mentioned to the companies or firms that are the subject of this report. Casa de Bolsa Banorte or its affiliates receive compensation from such corporations in consideration of the aforementioned services.

Over the course of the last twelve months, Grupo Financiero Banorte S.A.B. C.V., has not obtained compensation for services rendered by the investment bank or by any of its other business areas of the following companies or their subsidiaries, some of which could be analyzed within this report.

Activities of the business areas during the next three months.

Casa de Bolsa Banorte, Grupo Financiero Banorte or its subsidiaries expect to receive or intend to obtain revenue from the services provided by investment banking or any other of its business areas, by issuers or their subsidiaries, some of which could be analyzed in this report.

Guide for investment recommendations.

	Reference
BUY	When the share expected performance is greater than the MEXBOL estimated performance.
HOLD	When the share expected performance is similar to the MEXBOL estimated performance.
SELL	When the share expected performance is lower than the MEXBOL estimated performance.

Even though this document offers a general criterion of investment, we urge readers to seek advice from their own Consultants or Financial Advisors, in order to consider whether any of the values mentioned in this report are in line with their investment goals, risk and financial position.

Determination of Target Prices

For the calculation of estimated target prices for securities, analysts use a combination of methodologies generally accepted among financial analysts, including, but not limited to, multiples analysis, discounted cash flows, sum-of-the-parts or any other method that could be applicable in each specific case according to the current regulation. No guarantee can be given that the target prices calculated for the securities will be achieved by the analysts of Grupo Financiero Banorte S.A.B. C.V, since this depends on a large number of various endogenous and exogenous factors that affect the performance of the issuing company, the environment in which it performs, along with the influence of trends of the stock market, in which it is listed. Moreover, the investor must consider that the price of the securities or instruments can fluctuate against their interest and cause the partial and even total loss of the invested capital.
