

Financial Markets Daily

Main drivers for the financial markets today...

- Stock markets mixed –with S&P futures positive–, government bond yields with a positive bias, and the USD higher, with investors digesting US employment figures, relevant amid fears about an economic slowdown after recent data, helping define future actions from the Fed
- On the economic agenda, we highlight US labor market data for May. Nonfarm payrolls resulted in 139 thousand new positions, above expectations. The unemployment rate remained at 4.2%. In the Eurozone, April's retail sales fell 0.1% m/m, below consensus, while in Germany, industrial production for the same month fell 1.4% m/m, dashing expectations of a cyclical recovery
- Regarding President Trump's tax bill, he reportedly indicated to the Senate Republicans that he is open to a SALT cap below US$40 thousand, which had already been approved by the House of Representatives
- The US Treasury singled out China for its lack of transparency in its semiannual FX report, but did not classify it as a currency manipulator. In the same report, it called the BoJ to raise interest rates to strengthen the yen
- Chinese Premier Li Qiang held talks with Canadian Prime Minister Mark Carney on issues such as trade, fentanyl, and initiatives to regulate communication. Meanwhile, President Trump stated that Xi Jinping had invited him to visit China and that there was a commitment to restoring the flow of rare earths
- According to some media reports, White House advisers have scheduled a call between Trump and Elon Musk for today –following yesterday's public dispute. However, other White House sources stated that no such call is planned

Equities

- The week concludes with mixed movements in main stock indices. In particular, futures in the US anticipate a positive opening, with the S&P500 trading 0.7% above its theoretical value, reacting to the newly released employment data
- In corporate news, Tesla shares recover about 5% after yesterday's 14% drop on the expectation that tensions between President Trump and Elon Musk will cool down. Lululemon and Broadcom fall on disappointing estimates. In Mexico, Oma's 6.9% advance in May's passenger traffic stood out, followed by Gap with a 2.6% increase. Asur's traffic fell by 2.2%
- After markets closing, S&P Dow Jones Indices will announce the preliminary changes to the samples that will integrate their reference indices. Regarding Mexico we do not expect any relevant announcement

Sovereign fixed income, currencies and commodities

- Mixed balance in sovereign bonds. The Treasuries' curve shows losses of up to 7bps after the May employment report. In contrast, European 10-year bonds gain 3bps, on average. Yesterday, the Mbonos' curve in Mexico marked gains of 2bps, with the 10-year benchmark (Nov'34) closing at 9.17% (-2bps)
- USD advances against all developed currencies, with the JPY (-0.8%) as the weakest. In emerging markets, the bias is also negative, led by those in Europe. Meanwhile, the Mexican peso is trading at 19.13 per dollar (+0.2%), scoring three favorable days in a row
- Crude-oil futures remain stable following easing trade tensions that helped offset concerns about oversupply. In metals, precious advance and industrials decline

Corporate Debt

- Banco Actinver (Trustee) announced that AB&C Leasing has instructed the voluntary early redemption of the AB&CCB 22 / 22-2 notes, scheduled for June 16, 2025. The outstanding amount of the securities stands at MXN 1.47 billion
- HR Ratings assigned a 'HR A' rating to the proposed bank certificates that Consubanco intends to issue (CSBANCO 25). The rating reflects the stability of the bank's solvency profile as of 1Q25

Moreover, we also state that we have not received, nor receive, or will receive compensation other than that of Grupo Financiero Banorte S.A.B. of C.V for the provision of our services.

Relevant statements.

In accordance with current laws and internal procedures manuals, analysts are allowed to hold long or short positions in shares or securities issued by companies that are listed on the Mexican Stock Exchange and may be the subject of this report; nonetheless, equity analysts have to adhere to certain rules that regulate their participation in the market in order to prevent, among other things, the use of private information for their benefit and to avoid conflicts of interest. Analysts shall refrain from investing and holding transactions with securities or derivative instruments directly or through an intermediary person, with Securities subject to research reports, from 30 calendar days prior to the issuance date of the report in question, and up to 10 calendar days after its distribution date.

Compensation of Analysts.

Analysts' compensation is based on activities and services that are aimed at benefiting the investment clients of Casa de Bolsa Banorte and its subsidiaries. Such compensation is determined based on the general profitability of the Brokerage House and the Financial Group and on the individual performance of each analyst. However, investors should note that analysts do not receive direct payment or compensation for any specific transaction in investment banking or in other business areas.

Last-twelve-month activities of the business areas.

Grupo Financiero Banorte S.A.B. de C.V., through its business areas, provides services that include, among others, those corresponding to investment banking and corporate banking, to a large number of companies in Mexico and abroad. It may have provided, is providing or, in the future, will provide a service such as those mentioned to the companies or firms that are the subject of this report. Casa de Bolsa Banorte or its affiliates receive compensation from such corporations in consideration of the aforementioned services.

Over the course of the last twelve months, Grupo Financiero Banorte S.A.B. C.V., has not obtained compensation for services rendered by the investment bank or by any of its other business areas of the following companies or their subsidiaries, some of which could be analyzed within this report.

Activities of the business areas during the next three months.

Guide for investment recommendations.

	Reference
BUY	When the share expected performance is greater than the MEXBOL estimated performance.
HOLD	When the share expected performance is similar to the MEXBOL estimated performance.
SELL	When the share expected performance is lower than the MEXBOL estimated performance.

Even though this document offers a general criterion of investment, we urge readers to seek advice from their own Consultants or Financial Advisors, in order to consider whether any of the values mentioned in this report are in line with their investment goals, risk and financial position.

Determination of Target Prices

For the calculation of estimated target prices for securities, analysts use a combination of methodologies generally accepted among financial analysts, including, but not limited to, multiples analysis, discounted cash flows, sum-of-the-parts or any other method that could be applicable in each specific case according to the current regulation. No guarantee can be given that the target prices calculated for the securities will be achieved by the analysts of Grupo Financiero Banorte S.A.B. C.V, since this depends on a large number of various endogenous and exogenous factors that affect the performance of the issuing company, the environment in which it performs, along with the influence of trends of the stock market, in which it is listed. Moreover, the investor must consider that the price of the securities or instruments can fluctuate against their interest and cause the partial and even total loss of the invested capital.

The information contained hereby has been obtained from sources that we consider to be reliable, but we make no representation as to its accuracy or completeness. The information, estimations and recommendations included in this document are valid as of the issue date, but are subject to modifications and changes without prior notice; Grupo Financiero Banorte S.A.B. of C.V. does not commit to communicate the changes and also to keep the content of this document updated.
