Financial Markets Daily

Main drivers for the financial markets today...

- Negative stock markets, government bond yields down and USD up, with investors worried about economic recovery after China's exports and imports weaker than expected and awaiting US CPI report tomorrow and a last-minute resolution on the US debt-ceiling
- Attention will be on President Biden's meeting with congressional leaders to negotiate an increase in the debt limit, amid the risks of a default on June 1.
 Given the conflicting positions, the expectations that an agreement can be reached today are low. On the monetary policy front, there will be interventions from Fed's Williams and Jefferson, looking for signals on possible decisions at upcoming FOMC meetings
- Regarding economic figures, China's imports fell in April (-7.9% y/y), while exports moderated their pace of growth (+8.5% y/y from 14.8% previously), raising concerns about whether the Asian country will indeed be able to boost global growth
- In Mexico, INEGI published April's inflation at -0.02% m/m, with the core at +0.39%, both below expectations. As such, annual inflation fell to 6.25% (previous: 6.85%), with the core also lower at 7.67% (previous: 8.09%)

Equities

- Negative movements in equity markets as investors as investors react to weaker-than-expected economic data from China. In addition, concerns about access to financing for the real estate sector in Sweden have arisen after one of its participants, the SBB group, halted dividend payments and cancelled its planned share issue following the credit rating cut it received from S&P Global. Thus, in Asia most markets closed negative, highlighting the fall of the Hang Seng (-2.1%). In Europe stocks drop, the Eurostoxx sheds 1.0%. In turn, in the US the futures of main indices point to a negative open by falling 0.4% on average
- In corporate news, out of the 14 S&P500 companies scheduled to report today, 7 have released their results, most of them below estimates. In Mexico, Asur's passenger traffic in April showed a further deceleration, impacted by the weakness in Colombia

Sovereign fixed income, currencies and commodities

- Slightly positive balance. In Europe, rates decrease 1bp, on average. Meanwhile, Treasuries register gains of 2bps. Locally, Mbonos began the week with a selloff of 4bps, on average, with the 10-year benchmark closing at 8.81% (+5bps)

- Crude-oil futures fell after two-day surge as Chinese trade data highlighted concerns about the nation's economic recovery and energy demand. In metals, the balance is mixed with the gold advancing 0.4%

Corporate Debt

- Today we expect the auction of the tap issue of bonds AB&CCB 21 / 22 (AB&C Leasing's ABS) for up to MXN 1.5 billion to reach a total of MXN 4.0 billion with the original notes. Series 22 pays a floating rate of THE-28 + 205bps and series 22-2 pays a fixed rate of 11.41%. The remaining term of the bonds is approximately 4 years
- S&P Global Ratings revised Molymet's ratings' outlook to Negative from Stable and affirmed its global scale rating of 'BBB-' and its national scale rating of 'mxAA'. Afterwards, it withdrew the rating. The Negative outlook reflects the agency's expectation that Molymet will face elevated working capital needs amid volatile molybdenum prices during 2023
